

MRS. RAGONE SHOT MAN IN STRUGGLE TO SAVE OWN LIFE

Such Is the Contentment of Her Lawyers Who Open Case for the Defense.

The defense of Mrs. Josephine Ragone, on trial for the killing of Frank Iucalano before Judge Crain in the Court of General Sessions, was begun today. The usual motions for the dismissal of the case were made, and denied by the court. Her attorney, Newman Levy, in his opening said Mrs. Ragone had been forced to kill Iucalano in self defense. He stated Iucalano endeavored to kill her and in the struggle she obtained the revolver and he was shot.

Don Duquino, of No. 96 Bay 18th Street, Bensonhurst, swore that on Oct. 13, 1920, the day before the killing, he saw Mrs. Ragone and Iucalano and heard her say, "Leave me alone; leave me in peace." The man replied with an oath and told her to shut up.

On the morning of the killing he says he saw them again. He had one hand on her coat and was shaking his finger in her face. He says she heard him say:

"If you don't do what I want, I will kill you like a sheep."

He says he passed on and later returned in time to hear him say "I want you right away."

The killing happened at 105th Street, and Second Avenue. When near 119th Street he says he heard three or four shots and thought they were the jackfire of an automobile and continued on his way.

BRITAIN'S ZIONIST POLICY CRITICISED

Places an Embargo on Jewish Immigration, Dr. Weiz-man Contends.

LONDON, Nov. 28. (Jewish Telegraphic Agency).—Dr. Chaim Weizman, President of the World Zionist Organization, declared at a mass meeting here today that the Zionist attitude toward the British Administration in Palestine was becoming increasingly negative, because of the limited interpretation of the latter placed upon the Balfour declaration, and because of the practical embargo now existing on Jewish immigration to the homeland.

Dr. Weizman declared he was satisfied that the official charged with the fulfillment of the provisions in the Palestine mandate, now shared the Zionist view that the present Palestine administration should be replaced.

JUSTICE FORD UPHELD IN TWO DECISIONS

Court of Appeals Unanimously Reverses Appellate Division.

Supreme Court Justice Ford has been sustained and the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, First Department, has been reversed in a decision handed down by the Court of Appeals in the case of the Butterick Publishing Company of New York for installing heating and ventilating apparatus in the Evander Childs High School, the Bronx.

In a second case Justice Ford granted a peremptory writ of mandamus directing Comptroller Craig to pay a claim of $22,144.95 to the Wells & Newton Company of New York for installing heating and ventilating apparatus in the Evander Childs High School, the Bronx.

The Comptroller refused to pay the claim on the ground that it had not been properly added.

Justice Ford ordered the claim paid. The Appellate Division decision decided unanimously against the ruling, but it has been unanimously upheld by the Court of Appeals.

SPINSTER, 52, LEAPS FROM ROOF; WILL DIE.

East Side Tenants Aroused by Impact of Body.

Tenants in the five-story tenement house at the northwest corner of Third Avenue and 56th Street were aroused at 5:15 o'clock this morning by a crash followed by cries and moans of a woman. A policeman found on the roof of the one-story store at No. 199 East 56th Street, adjoining the tenement, Miss Marie Trondle, fifty-two years old, of No. 189 Lexington Avenue.

She had jumped or fallen from the roof of the five-story building. Dr. Feigen took her to Flower Hospital. Her injuries probably will prove fatal. She professed to be unable to tell how she got to the roof of the tenement. Her coat and her purse containing 50 cents were found there.

Miss Trondle had lived for many years in the boarding house of Mrs. Joseph Quigley. She left there, according to Mrs. Quigley, at 8 o'clock last night.

RECORD HIGH TIDE IMPEDES JERSEY FERRY SERVICE

Water Fills Runways to Slips and Washes Over Battery Sea Wall.

Ferry service between New York and New Jersey was seriously impeded this morning by the highest tide of which the Dock Department has any record. The water filled the runways to the slips and slopped over the battery sea wall. In New Jersey some of the ferry houses were awash.

At its height the tide was reported seven feet above mean low water and 2.75 feet above normal high tide by the markings at Pier A. The cause, according to the Weather Bureau, was due to a combination of circumstances. There was a high Northeast wind combined with a slow moving storm and an increasingly low area of barometric pressure. To this was added the effect of the new moon which rose at 4:47 A. M.

Of the ferry services that of the Erie was the most severely affected. Vehicular traffic was abandoned and most of the passengers were forced to take to the tube because of the conditions on the Jersey side.

The Lackawanna, which has double deck boats, used the upper runways to load passengers. The Pennsylvania and West Shore Ferries also reported unfavorable conditions from 7.30 to 9.30.

The Weather Bureau says the abnormal conditions may continue for two or three days.

Prisoner Blames Dead Merchant, Once His Boss, for Breaking Up Romance.

William Ginsberg, thirty-four, of Lakewood, N. J., was arraigned in Essex Market Police Court today charged with homicide and held without bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. He shot and killed Samuel Lubin last night in Lubin's store at No. 146 Forsyth Street.

"Yes, I killed him," said Ginsberg. He separated me from my girl and kept me from being married.

"I was engaged to Anna Rosenthal who lives at No. 304 South Third Street, Brooklyn. I used to work for Lubin and he was sore at me. He wrote lies to the girl and she broke off the engagement. I tried to get him to tell her he had lied about me and he refused. Last night I got a gun and went to his store and shot him."

There were no witnesses to the murder. Lubin's wife and three children were in their home upstairs and did not hear the shot. Ginsberg went to the Clinton Street Station and gave himself up. Detectives found Lubin's body in the store and notified his wife.

At about the time Lubin was shot Charles Fuchs, twenty-seven, of No. 395 East 102d Street, was shot and

The Lake Superior storm is sweeping eastward toward the St. Lawrence and should do little damage in this country, the bureau said.

The Piano Record is a Critical Test

To reproduce the music of a piano is one of the severest tasks you can put to a phonograph. The result is usually decidedly tinkly and weak and reminds you of the nursery and the children's one octave toy piano. That is why we advise you to insist on hearing a piano record, as well as others, before you buy.

Feeding Children for Health

KEEPING the children healthy and robust is the aim of every mother. Good wholesome food is the most important means to this end and yet many mothers who plan the most nourishing dinners and suppers seem to forget that breakfast—coming as it does after a ten-hour fast—is perhaps the most important meal of all.

Numberless children are sent off to school every morning with nothing but a hurriedly fried egg or a cup of coffee. Such a diet is frequently the cause of under-weight and mal-nourishment in children.

What then is an ideal breakfast for a child?

Experts in nutrition tell us that a child's breakfast should first of all be built around a good full dish of steaming cereal—such as H-O (Hornby's Oatmeal). Mary S. Rose in her book "Feeding the Family" says:

"A warm cooked cereal should always be the staple breakfast dish—oatmeal being given the preference."

Other books on child nutrition recommend a steaming dish of oatmeal served with milk, bread and butter, fresh, stewed or baked fruit, milk or cocoa to drink, in both the winter and the summer breakfast menus for children.

H-O is the most important part of every child's breakfast. It is from that mysterious growth-promoting "something" in H-O that the childish muscles gain their strength—it is that mysterious "something" in H-O that puts the ruddy glow of health into chubby cheeks and helps to keep it there.

Watch the children's breakfasts. Make sure that they get the daily benefit of the mysterious health and growth-giving qualities found in every bowlful of H-O!

A New Way To Serve
H-O

Top off a dish of H-O with a spoonful of bright red currant, apple, or other jelly which you may have on hand. This tiny bit of color is a special delight to children, giving them an entirely new interest in their H-O breakfast cereal.

Special Booklets for Mothers

Every mother who is interested in the health of her children should send for our new booklet "Food for Growing Children," published by our Department of Child Nutrition. Any mother who requests it may have her name registered with our Department of Child Nutrition to receive the helpful bulletins which we publish from time to time. Send your request to
